Hampton Roads Convention Center Hosts Inaugural 757 Extravaganza & Market June 28-30

Hampton, Virginia- The fun of the Hampton Jazz Festival can now last all day long at the new 757 Extravaganza & Market. This companion event to the festival will take place June 28 – 30, at the Hampton Roads Convention Center and feature vendors, parties, food and music.

Where music meets art, the 757 Extravaganza & Market will bring together creative culture and jazzy energy! An array of local artisans' traditional and modern crafts will be available, along with retail items and other amazing finds. "The inspiration for the 757 Extravaganza & Market was the desire to create multiple opportunities for people to enjoy Hampton during the Jazz Festival weekend," said Hampton Roads Convention Center General Manager Eric P. Nealy.

"Attendees will expect to see music come alive with plenty of art, shopping and excitement all while connecting with fellow Jazz Festival attendees," Nealy added. "We are committed to creating a vibrant and dynamic atmosphere to ensure an unforgettable experience, unlike any before.” Market vendors will be located throughout the building. Guests can find unique keepsakes to take home from their visit to Hampton or simply stroll through the convention center to see all of the incredible creativity. Food trucks will be outside of the convention center, offering a variety of fare.

In addition to the Market, there will also be parties during the event. Guests can chill at the “Jazz on The Deck” party, featuring DJ Silk, and an outdoor cigar lounge or save some energy for The Official Hampton Jazz Festival After Party Friday night, where they can unwind and show off their line-dancing skills! Things will be kicked up a notch at the All White Day Party, an all-day celebration on Saturday, featuring electrifying acts like Jack of Spade, DJ JSkillz and more.
